About the Seminar:

It gives us immense pleasure to invite you to participate in an International Seminar on 'Relevance of Thoughts of Social Reformers in a Globalized World' to be held on 23rd and 24th February, 2017

In this fast growing world every concept is focused in terms of globalization. It is said that the process of globalization started from 1991 after the Cold War period, the period which introduced new world order. In this new world everyone started thinking towards the basic needs of human being and the development of nation is compared through the living standards of the people i.e. the lifestyle, rate of education among male and female, per capita income, medical facilities to the people, basic rights of people, etc.

When we think about these basics of human developments many social reformers in the world started their work more than 100 years before the new world emerged. Thinkers and social reformers like Raja Ram Mohan Roy, Mahatma Phule, Savitribai Phule, Rajshri Shahu, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar in India; Caroline Norton, Granville Sharp from Europe, Harriet Tubman, William Lloyd Garrison from America, et al. Thoughts and work of these social reformers has given new direction to the world and along the lines of their thoughts the new globalized world is developing today.
